About Me

I am a data-driven performance marketer with a Computer Science degree, an MBA in Marketing, and 5+ years of freelance statistical research. In a live Meta Ads campaign, I helped fix Meta Pixel and GTM tracking, which cut cost per lead by ~69%, and my Google Ads analysis showed local-area ads earned 3x higher CTR and all 4 conversions. I bring hard skills in Meta Ads, Google Ads, GA4, GTM, and SEM analysis, plus soft skills in analytical thinking, presentation, and team leadership. I can fix the tracking, read the numbers, and decide where the next ad budget goes, all in one role, as shown by my team's 2nd-place finish and five selected class presentations at RevoU. Bring me onto your performance or growth team, and every budget decision will be backed by clean data and a clear story.

Project Experiences

Meta Ads Project | Kalaklin Laundry | RevoU Group Project Aug 2026 - Sep 2026
Performance Marketer

- Monitored daily spend, CTR, and CPL across 6 ad sets in a live lead campaign (12,207 reach, 243 clicks, 6 leads).
- Helped fix Meta Pixel/GTM lead-event tracking, cutting cost per lead by ~69% once leads were recorded.
- Shifted budget to broad audiences and Reels: broad drove all 6 leads, and Reels delivered a 52% lower CPL than the blended average; flagged a cold-narrow ad that used over 1/3 of budget with 0 leads.

Google Ads Project | Kalaklin Laundry | RevoU Group Project Sep 2026
Technical & Reporting

- Integrated Google Ads, GTM, GA4, and the landing page into a validated conversion-tracking setup before launch.
- Found local-area ads earned 3x higher CTR (16.67% vs 5.60%) and all 4 conversions at a 25% CVR and a 53% lower CPA than the blended average.
- Reported a 6.38% blended CTR (vs 5% target) and recommended shifting budget to the top local-area ad group.

Working Experiences

Freelance Quantitative Research Analyst | Self-employed Jan 2021 - Present
